MORI Coffee

A little room for a slower morning.

A warm, editorial website for an imagined neighbourhood cafe. Four connected pages turn a first impression into an easy plan to visit.

HOME / DESKTOP

SCOPE

4 pages / responsive

DISCIPLINE

Visual design + front end

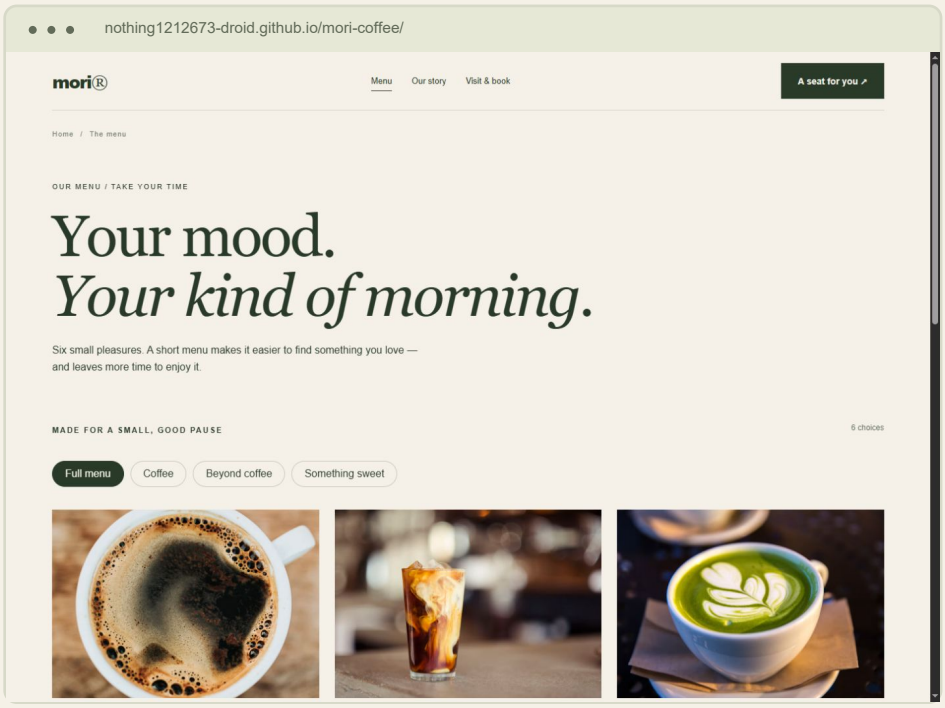

BUILD

HTML / CSS / JavaScript

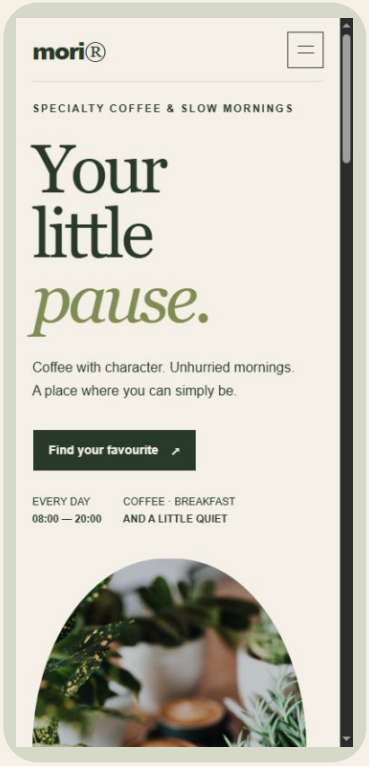

Self-initiated portfolio concept / Fictional brand

A considered journey across four pages.

The menu, the story and the visit each have their own space. Familiar navigation keeps the experience connected.

MENU / DESKTOP

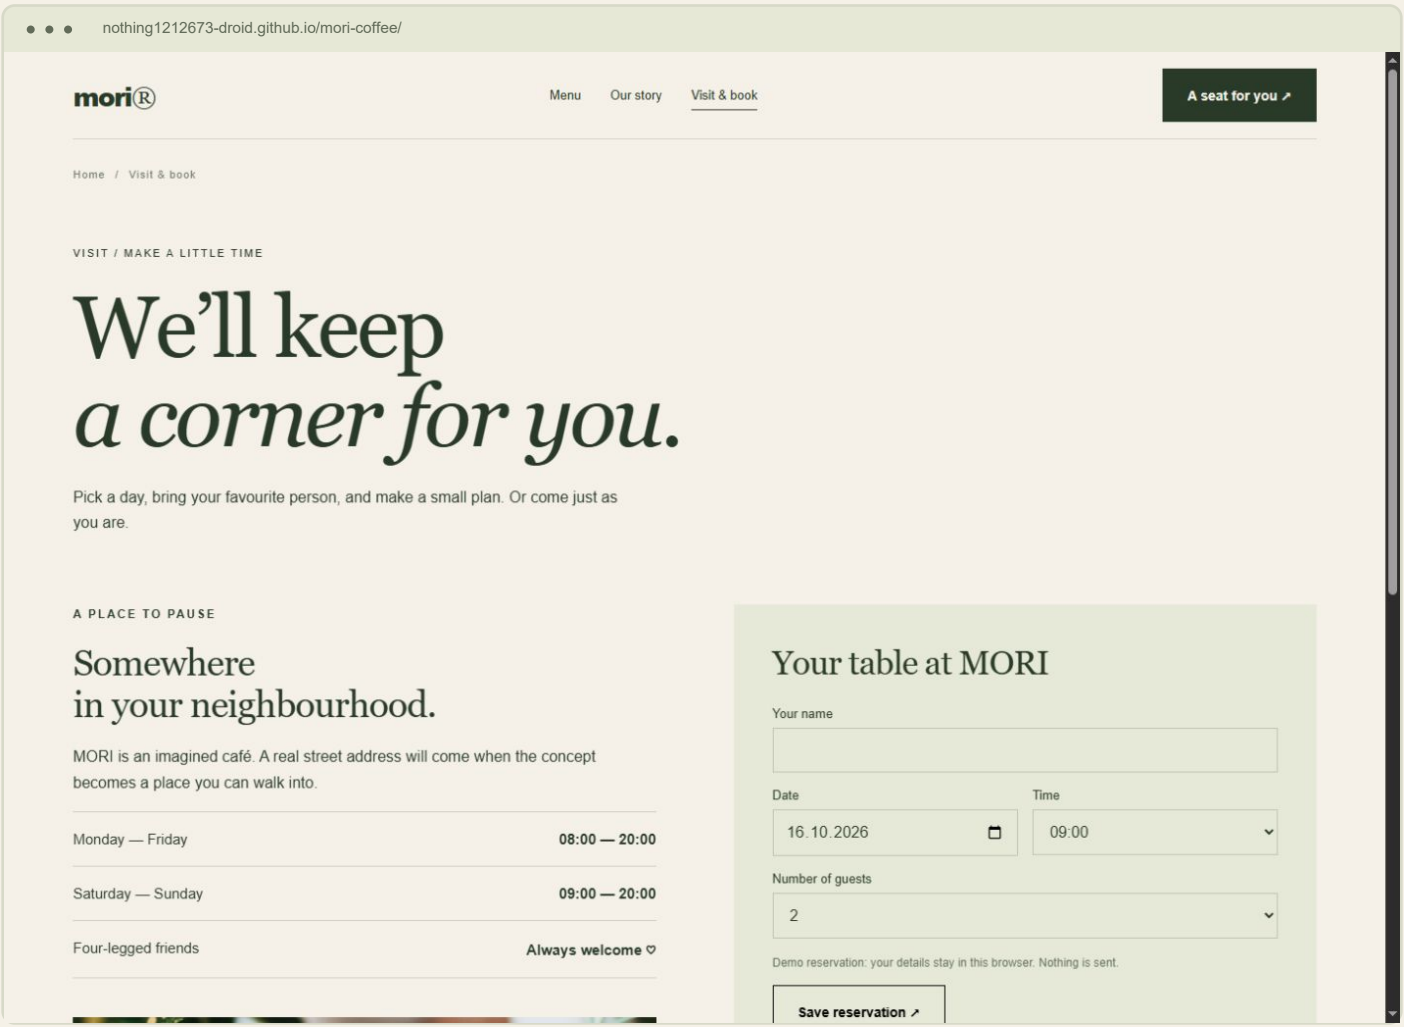

HOME / MOBILE

PAGE STRUCTURE

01	Home	Sets the atmosphere and opens the journey.
02	Menu	Category filters and a simple taste guide.
03	Our story	An editorial page about the cafe concept.
04	Visit & book	Opening hours and a local demo reservation.

VISUAL DIRECTION Georgia + Arial

Details that make it feel alive.

VISIT & BOOK / DESKTOP

A menu you can explore

Filter coffee, other drinks and sweet treats, or choose a flavour preference for a suggestion.

A useful reservation demo

Future date and time validation, local saving and a downloadable text summary. No real booking is made.

Small, quiet movements

A floating stamp, image hover effects, card entrances and gentle section reveals.

Built for different screens

Responsive layouts, a mobile menu, visible focus states and support for reduced motion.

View live website >

View source on GitHub >

Hosted on GitHub Pages